

In Peniscola (Castellon, Spain), beside the town festivals, other events are held.
A club of old cars collectors ((cars more than 25 years old), presented its treasures during a Sunday morning.
Of course, as always, when there are classy chassis and generously motorized, I was there till the opening.
I made some photos despite the light and the public (and the spanish public is quickly invasive ...).

Remained the music concern ...

I remembered that during my first trip to Andalusia (1962 ...), Michelin, the pioneer of advertising, had a particular publicity campaign by sending to some corporations a vinyl disk : on one side, the "Calypso Antonio, clearly a publicity message, and on the other, " chacha of gasolina ".

Don Rafael, the father of my friend, gave me this disk as a gift. Since then, it has become a collector because it was the first vinyl distributed in Spain.

As it was extensively used, not necessarily in good conditions, I tried to remove as much as possible the background noise.

I hope you will enjoy this eye wink.

Daniel Laugier

danielaugier@free.fr

69 views

5 ' 29

33, 4 Mo

Views : 1728 x 1080